

Jewish Studies
University of Houston

Fall 2013

“Kabbalah & Jewish Mysticism”

A Public Lecture

by

Dr. Daniel Horwitz, D.J.S.

The Martha Gano Houstoun

Visiting Distinguished Professor

Department of English

University of Houston

Thursday, November 7, 2013

3–5 p.m.

in the Honors College

M. D. Anderson Memorial Library

[Free to the Public]

With appreciation to supportive donors of the J. B. Greenfield Chapel, Congregation Beth Yeshurun, Houston, Texas

Parking [parking rates], the University Garage: Calhoun Rd. (5-minute walk to the lecture)

Study קַבְּבָלָה at the University of Houston
November 5, 6, and 7, 2013

Kabbalah and Jewish Mysticism

Taught by

Dr. Daniel Horwitz, D.J.S.

Martha Gano Houston Visiting Distinguished Professor

Department of English

Recipient of the Doctor of Jewish Studies

Sperus Institute of Jewish Learning and Leadership

With the support of the Jewish Studies Minor of the University of Houston and Donors of the J. B. Greenfield Chapel, Congregation Beth Yeshurun, Houston, Texas

For Undergraduate Students—[Lecture and Discussion]

Tuesday ♦ November 5 / 8:30–10 a.m. ♦ Room 105 Roy Cullen Bldg.

For Houston Hillel and Campus Religious Organizations— [Lecture and Discussion]

Tuesday ♦ November 5 / 11:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. ♦ Second floor, A. D. Bruce Religion Center

For Graduate Students, a Seminar—[Lecture and Discussion]

Wednesday ♦ November 6 / 2:30 –5:30 p.m. ♦ Room 114 Roy Cullen Bldg.

For the University Community and the General Public—[Public Lecture and Discussion]

Thursday ♦ November 7 / 3–5 p.m. ♦ The Honors Lounge The Honors College—2nd Floor, M. D. Anderson Library