

THE HONORS COLLEGE
AT THE UNIVERSITY OF HOUSTON

HERE YOU ARE.

You're on the precipice of an important decision. You want an education that matters, one that will prepare you for the challenges of the real world. The Honors College at the University of Houston will support your aims, whoever you are and wherever you're going.

Discover the world . . . and yourself.

The Honors College at the University of Houston houses a world of possibilities. Within our community, you will thrive on challenges, explore your passions, and open your arms wide to the world — to the vibrant city of Houston and beyond. In this journey, you'll uncover your best self.

HONORS IS THE PLACE.

THE HONORS ADVANTAGE

As an Honors student, you get a small-college feel with big-university resources, located in the heart of Houston, one of the largest and most diverse cities in the nation.

Honors provides the careful guidance, flexibility, and personal instruction that nurtures academic excellence in our student body of high achievers.

You'll confer with your peers and professors in small discussion-based seminars, relax with your friends in Honors' exclusive living room, and feel at home in reserved floors in state-of-the-art residence halls.

And you'll also enjoy all the resources the UH campus has to offer.

COMPETE AT THE HIGHEST LEVEL

No matter what your major, the broad skillset and flexible, creative thinking that you gain from a liberal arts education are more important than ever in today's job market.

Knowledge of human cultures, the physical and natural world, personal and social responsibility, and intellectual and practical skills are what matter most to employers, even in high-tech, STEM-based industries.

Between the Honors College's signature course, The Human Situation, the unique perspectives Honors courses offer, and our emphasis on collaborative and discussion-based study, you will excel at oral and written communication, critical thinking, ethical judgment, and working effectively in teams.

HONORS IS THE PLACE

TO LEARN.

WHO IS AN HONORS STUDENT?

Students from all majors are welcome — they belong to both the Honors College and the college of their major at the University.

THE HONORS CURRICULUM

The Honors curriculum is designed to complement all degree plans offered at the University of Houston. Honors classes fulfill core requirements, and many major courses can be taken for Honors credit. About a third of your degree will be taken in Honors designated courses.

THE HUMAN SITUATION

Honors College students begin their liberal arts education with our signature two-semester discussion course, The Human Situation.

In this course, you'll read literature, philosophy, and religious texts and wrestle with ideas that have been foundational to modern culture.

These texts present compelling, if not always harmonious, insights into human situations. Through close reading and lively discussion with faculty from a variety of backgrounds and disciplines, you will discern "The Human Situation" for yourself.

HONORS IS THE PLACE

TO ENGAGE.

MINORS AND PROGRAMS

GLOBAL ENGAGEMENT AND RESEARCH

Explore how a place – its physical, political, economic, social, historical, and cultural topography – informs people, values, and relationships. This minor foregrounds Learning Abroad/Learning Away experiences, service learning, and community research.

CREATIVE WORK

Apply innovative thinking, collaborative problem-solving, and conceptual grounding – that is, creative work – to any major or field of interest. Through interdisciplinary approaches and real-world considerations, the Creative Work minor encourages students to discover how great ideas evolve from inspiration to realization.

LEADERSHIP STUDIES

Expand your knowledge of leadership theory and practice while analyzing the personal and professional experiences that will define your own leadership philosophy. Leadership Studies students also engage in leadership training, honing their skills in real-life situations such as student government, mentoring opportunities, and community organizations.

Honors minor

Whatever your major, as an Honors student, you may choose to complement your field of study with one of seven Honors minors designed to customize, reinforce, and diversify your education.

DATA AND SOCIETY

Address important challenges in today's world by studying the broad social impact of data science and partner with local organizations to engage in co-curricular learning projects that utilize data and data analytics to respond to community needs. Data and Society is open to all students, regardless of affiliation.

MEDICINE AND SOCIETY

Deepen your understanding of the social, cultural, and historical factors that remain crucial to the practice of effective medicine. MedSoc is designed for future health care professionals as well as any other students wishing to examine issues of illness and recovery from a variety of humanities-based perspectives.

ENERGY AND SUSTAINABILITY

Investigate complex issues of energy security, global climate change, and environmental stewardship by taking an interdisciplinary approach that integrates perspectives from engineering, economics, business, architecture, design, public policy, and education.

PHRONËSIS

Develop your capacity to engage with difficult contemporary issues and cultivate practical wisdom by considering fundamental issues of ethics, history, political theory, and morality. Phronêsis students discuss the most profound, enduring questions of public life. This minor is especially recommended for those pursuing pre-law studies.

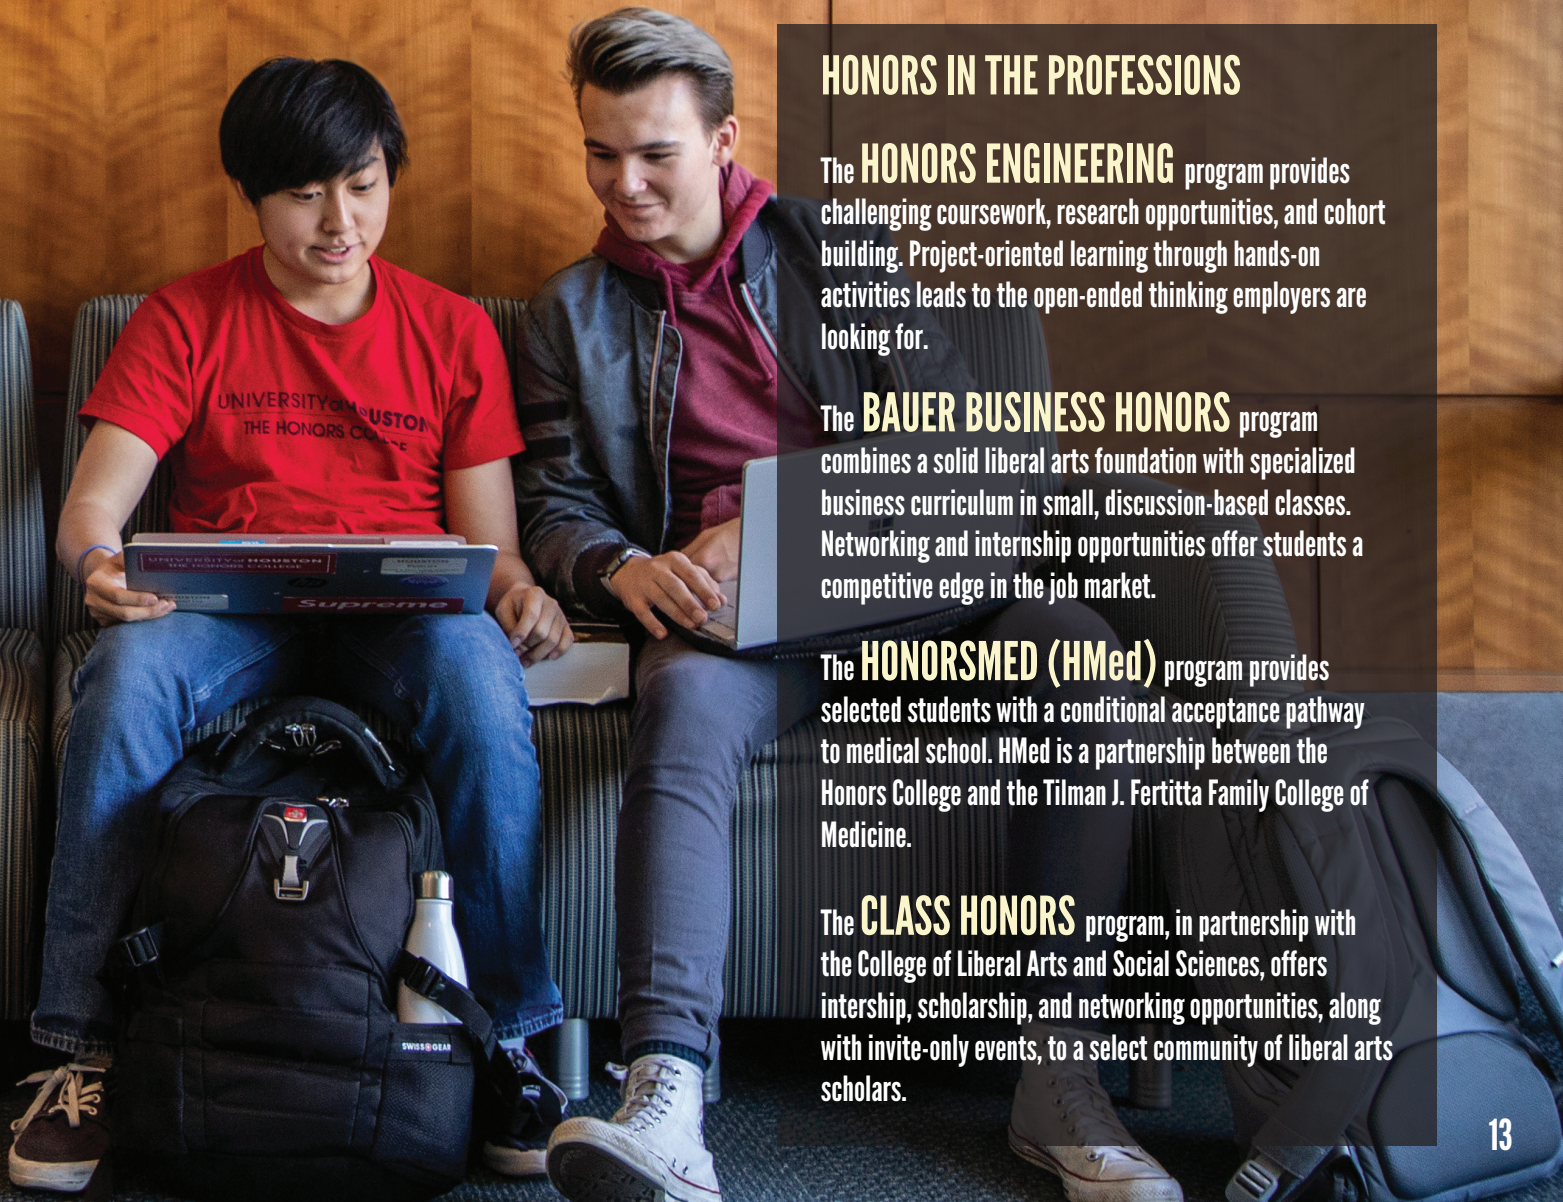

HONORS IN THE PROFESSIONS

The HONORS ENGINEERING program provides challenging coursework, research opportunities, and cohort building. Project-oriented learning through hands-on activities leads to the open-ended thinking employers are looking for.

The BAUER BUSINESS HONORS program combines a solid liberal arts foundation with specialized business curriculum in small, discussion-based classes. Networking and internship opportunities offer students a competitive edge in the job market.

The HONORSMED (HMed) program provides selected students with a conditional acceptance pathway to medical school. HMed is a partnership between the Honors College and the Tilman J. Fertitta Family College of Medicine.

The CLASS HONORS program, in partnership with the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences, offers internship, scholarship, and networking opportunities, along with invite-only events, to a select community of liberal arts scholars.

BEYOND THE CLASSROOM

Learning occurs both in and out of the classroom. Co-curricular opportunities provide an experiential component where you get to apply what you're learning to real-life situations and affect real-time outcomes.

Whatever your major or your interests, we have co-curricular programming for you.

BONNER LEADERS

Engage with the greater Houston community through service that fights the causes and symptoms of poverty at the ground level.

HONORS IN COMMUNITY HEALTH

Help build healthy communities through a multidisciplinary approach to overcoming barriers for underserved populations. This collaborative, student-led organization uses its understanding of the social determinants of health to explore multiple types of service: community engagement, advocacy, and research.

SPEECH AND DEBATE

Research topical issues and debate their merits with your peers, and compete nationally with students from schools across the country.

MODEL DEBATE

Contribute to cross-cultural dialogue on international geopolitical issues as a participant in Model United Nations, Model Arab League, and Model G20.

MIKAEL FLOYD ('20)

Political Science major, Truman Scholarship Winner,
Former Associate Justice for the University of Houston
Supreme Court

"I ran for office at 18 years old and took on the role of a state party officer just a year later because I believe that young people and our voices are essential in government. I cannot think of a more important mission than that of revitalizing our democracy."

HONORS SOCIETIES

Honors is the home of three of the biggest National Honor Societies:

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

Omicron Delta Kappa, the National Leadership Honor Society, recognizes exemplary leaders in scholarship, athletics, service, communication, and the arts.

PHI BETA KAPPA

Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's oldest and most prestigious honor society, celebrates excellence in the liberal arts and sciences.

PHI KAPPA PHI

Phi Kappa Phi is the oldest honor society to recognize excellence across the academic disciplines. Invited members graduate in the top 10 percent of their class.

CO-CURRICULAR ENGAGEMENT

The Honors in Co-Curricular Engagement designation provides formal recognition of a student's commitment to experiential learning opportunities outside the classroom throughout the academic career.

HONORS IS THE PLACE TO EXPLORE.

MAKE YOURSELF AT HOME

Over 8,000 students live on campus in nine residential communities. Living in campus housing is a unique opportunity to live and learn among your peers.

One of the most important ways to foster success in school is to connect with other students. That connection has shown to result in higher GPAs and higher graduation rates.

HONORS LIVING LEARNING COMMUNITY

You can choose to live and learn exclusively among other Honors students in the Honors Living Learning Communities in Cougar Village and Cougar Place.

Make yourself at home with WiFi/ internet access, computer labs, full kitchenettes, free laundry facilities, 24-hour desk operation and security, and social and study lounges on each floor.

Eat in one of two full-service dining halls; grab food at one of the 30 on-campus eateries; or use a mobile app to order from vendors on campus. A rotation of local food trucks also sets up shop on campus.

HONORS IS THE PLACE TO CALL HOME.

HEALTH AND WELLNESS

When you're not in class, there's a lot to do on campus! Shop, see a movie, or hang out with friends at the Student Center. Chill out at the Student Center Bowling Alley and enjoy pool tables or video games.

The state-of-the-art Campus Recreation & Wellness Center offers a rock-climbing wall, running track, basketball courts, lap pool, outdoor leisure pool, gym, personal training, group fitness classes, and wellness coaching to get your sweat on. Bike racks are stationed outside every building for easy transportation across campus.

CAMPUS AND BEYOND

The University is centrally located in the heart of Houston — providing access to the best of Houston's restaurants, theaters, parks, and museums, in addition to a wide range of industries for internships. Several bus lines and a light-rail line crisscross campus for easy access to the diversity and abundance that Houston offers.

HONORS IS COMMUNITY

Being an Honors student means getting involved. Whatever your interests, there is a wide range of Honors organizations and activities that will broaden your peer group, enrich your perspective, and serve your Honors community.

These are just a few of the many social organizations and activities that build community beyond the classroom.

HONORS STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

HONORS COLLEGE MENTORS

Honors Mentors provide incoming students guidance and support through a variety of community-building events and excursions to ensure a successful college transition.

STUDENT GOVERNING BOARD

The Student Governing Board plans and hosts college-wide social activities.

HONORS AMBASSADORS

Honors Ambassadors represent the College at college nights at local high schools, Honors College Open Houses, Cougar Previews, and recruitment initiatives.

BLEACHER CREATURES

Bleacher Creatures “paint up and get rowdy” at Cougar home games. Go Coogs!

CLUB THEATER

Club Theater students write, direct, act, build sets, and design costumes for original productions that are staged each semester.

HONORS STUDENT ACTIVITIES

HONORS RETREAT

Honors Retreat marks the beginning of each school year. At Retreat, incoming Honors College students meet upperclassmen, faculty, staff, and alumni and solidify their sense of community before classes begin. Upperclass students serve as Retreat Counselors to welcome and guide incoming Honors students during this two-day event.

HONORS IS THE PLACE

FOR COMMUNITY.

GET OUT OF TOWN

Travel can be life changing. No matter your major, you can make travel a part of your undergraduate education with the Honors College.

The Honors College organizes faculty-led trips year-round.

LEARNING ABROAD

Honors students have been all over the world. They have stood atop Machu Picchu in Peru, trekked to Tintern Abbey in Ireland, studied marine life in the Galápagos Islands, and worked with international aid organizations in Jordan.

LEARNING AWAY

Honors also travels a little closer to home. In the past few years, our students have examined the foundation of the early American Republic in Virginia, visited the environs of Delta Blues musicians in Mississippi, interned at the Smithsonian in Washington DC, and saw the Sinfonietta and a Cubs game in Chicago.

“Our classrooms became untamed woods, breathtaking hikes, and a brilliantly clear ocean. Seeing sea turtles, playful sea lions, and prehistoric birds became as ordinary as the squirrels on campus. While the islands were extraordinary, the people I shared the trip with made this experience life-changing.”

Liam Gallagher
Galápagos trip

HONORS IS THE PLACE

TO GO GLOBAL.

“It was so meaningful to me to know that I could go there and lend a hand. Being a part of this trip taught me that, as health care providers, we won’t always be able to solve every problem, but the most important thing we can do is be a human and connect to others.”

Jemima Brittlebank
Medical trip to Haiti

“Being in Barcelona was like nothing my experiences here could have prepared me for. Barcelona has no end of delicious food and breathtaking sights to offer, but what will stay with me forever are the people I met and the things they taught me.”

Sahar Baig
Barcelona trip

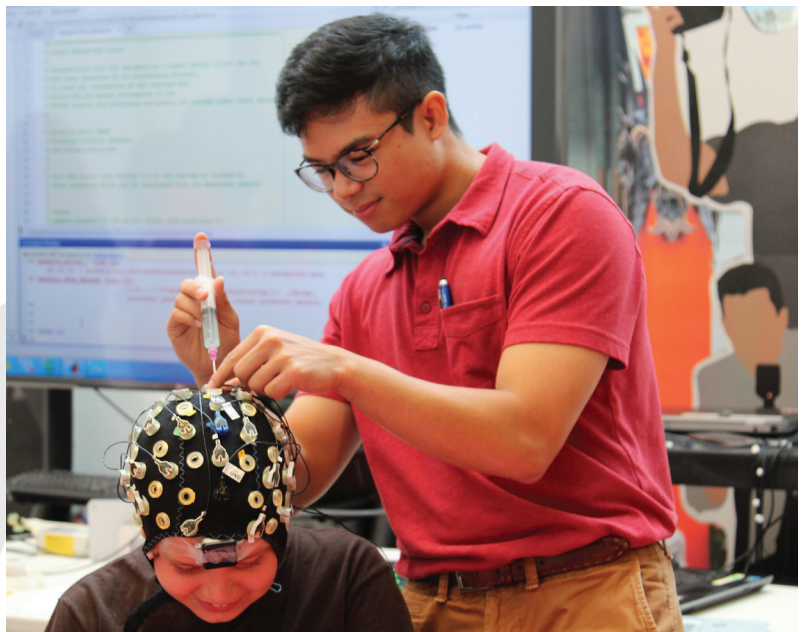

MAKE DISCOVERIES THROUGH RESEARCH

The University of Houston's Office of Undergraduate Research and Major Awards is located in the Honors College, making it easy to pursue a number of research opportunities mentored by University faculty throughout your undergraduate career.

Through funded opportunities, you will engage with other researchers and experts in your field of study, explore research fundamentals, and receive guidance from faculty and mentors. Design your own projects, present on Undergraduate Research Day, and attend conferences or publish in academic journals.

NATIONALLY COMPETITIVE AWARDS

The office provides support to undergraduate students to learn about nationally competitive scholarship opportunities and provides application guidance.

LAYLA MAYORGA ('19)

Philosophy major, Mellon Research Scholar

“Seeing the amazing projects my fellow Mellon Scholars have done reminds me that I am not doing all of this alone. Being in a dual degree program and taking master classes as an undergraduate while completing an Honors Thesis is tough, but the hard work is all doable and good preparation for students considering graduate school.”

“Doing research as an undergraduate opened a lot of doors for me. I feel more confident reaching out and applying to programs. Plus, I learned so many skills for my research that will help me in grad school and future work opportunities.”

Andreina Ruiz
Sociology and English major
Mellon Research Scholar

“Participating in undergraduate research has been one of the most formative experiences for me here at UH. Through OURMA research opportunities, I discovered and developed my passion for chemistry research and plan to pursue a Ph.D. in chemistry, taking all the lessons I learned as an undergraduate researcher with me.”

Kevin Fleming
Chemical Engineering major
DAAD RISE recipient

FULBRIGHT

The University of Houston is a nationally ranked Top Fulbright producing institution with 46 Fulbright recipients since 2018. Fulbright recipients have taught English in South Korea, Spain, Latvia, Turkey, Czech Republic, and Germany, just to name a few.

GRADUATION AND BEYOND

An Honors education is a transformative experience that prepares you for a lifetime of learning and achievement after graduation, whether you choose to immediately enter a career or continue to graduate school.

Our faculty and advisors will help you identify your strengths and passions. Our strong partnerships in the Houston community will help you build your professional network through internships, guest lecturers, and co-curricular opportunities. You'll graduate prepared to make an impact.

CAREER RESOURCES

As a University of Houston Cougar, you will have a ready network of 255,000 proud alumni.

"The Honors College has provided me countless opportunities, and the faculty support is unmatched. As a non-Houstonian, Honors gave me a place to call home and has changed the trajectory of my future in more ways than one."

Ariel Durham ('22)
History major

SAFA ANSARI-BAYEGAN ('13)

Berkeley School of Law Graduate,
Georgetown Law E. Barrett Prettyman Fellow

“I have Honors to thank for lifelong mentors who have supported me both professionally and personally at every turn since day one.”

HONORS IS THE PLACE

TO THRIVE.

“The magic of the Honors College comes from the community of professors and University staff who provide the passion and resources to achieve and fellow students who make the Commons and hallways buzz with life. I have felt genuine support and camaraderie with this amazing group of people.”

Paul Vaughan ('22)
Economics major,
National Security Studies minor,
Gilman Scholar, Fulbright Recipient

“The Honors College has been instrumental in my success as a student. With professors who genuinely care about individual students, support for research opportunities and fellowship applications, and a community focused on encouraging each student to excel, the Honors College has helped me create a home within the University of Houston.”

Cassidy Lee ('22)
Political Science and Spanish major
